Understanding Loan Documents

A Two-part Webinar Series

Have you ever read your bank's promissory note, security agreements or mortgage/deed of trust? Most bankers would have to admit the answer is: NO. This new series was developed by a banker who has been teaching loan documentation nationwide for 32 years. Taught at a basic level (for bankers, not lawyers), the instructor will lead participants through all sections of the various required loan documents. The purpose is to create a deeper understanding of why certain documents are required plus the significance of various sections and verbose language (often referred to as "boilerplate"). A working knowledge, with a focus on the risk management aspects of each document, is the goal. Being able to explain document content will add much to customer relationships.

Highlights

Part 1 - Loan Documents, July 7, 1:30-3:30 CT

- Promissory Note: The note is enforceable against the borrower! Review of each section for content, purpose, rights of all parties and scope of language.
- Security Agreement: The security agreement is enforceable against collateral. Review of each section for content, purpose, rights of all parties, representations and warranties, plus enforceability.
- UCC Instructions (on back of form) contain important information on how to correctly prepare the critically important form. Correct or exact names, organization types and numbers and collateral description language are key issues.
- Guarantees: The most one-sided document in banking. A guarantor gives up many rights and grants the bank many rights. Bankers need to understand the details of what the guarantor is agreeing to.

Part 2 - Real Estate Loan Documents, July 14, 1:30-3:30 CT

- Promissory Note: The note is enforceable against the borrower! Review of each section for content, purpose, rights of all parties and scope of language.
- Mortgage and Deed of Trust: The mortgage or deed of trust is enforceable against the real estate taken as collateral. Review of each section for content, purpose, rights of all parties, representations and warranties, plus enforceability.
- Title Commitments and Policies protect the lender by assuring an acceptable lien position. Knowing what to expect and what to look for is essential to underwriting and closing real estate loans.
- UCC Form Instructions (on back of form) contain important information on how to correctly prepare the critically important form. Correct or exact names, organization types and numbers and collateral description language are key issues.
- Guarantees: The most one-sided document in banking. A guarantor gives up many rights and grants the bank many rights. Bankers need to understand the details of what the guarantor is agreeing to.
